CITY TRUSTEES

Books of Treasurer and City Clerk to be Examined—Attorneys of Pacific Electric Write in Regard to Fourth St. Franchise—Childs Ave. to be Opened

At an adjourned meeting held Thursday evening of last week a resolution was passed adopting a map showing improvements to be made on East Third street and resolution of intention in regard to same was also passed. An ordinance amending the ordinance providing for the official bonds of city officials, passed second reading.

A motion passed that advertisement for materials to be used for constructing and operating an electric light plant, be published.

At the regular meeting on Wednesday evening, all were present except Mr. Anderson. Demands as follows were referred:

Cunningham, Curtis & Welch.....$ 1.27
F. R. Sinclair, Incidents..... 12.50
Lapp-Gifford Co., oil..... 25.65
Neuner Co., books for treasurer..... 5.00
Minnie A. Cross, typewriting..... 7.35
Labor bills, streets..... 42.50

A number of demands on the Electric Light bond fund were ordered paid.

A report was received from the finance committee recommending that the proposal of G. B. Hoffman to audit the books of the city treasurer and city clerk for year ending June 30th, 1909, for the sum of $35.00 be accepted, and Mr. Hoffman was so employed.

Reports of tax collector and treasurer were received, also report of former Building Inspector C. W. Burkett, the latter accompanied by check for fees. A communication was received from L. C. Brand with deed from Oliver S. Bond and wife to the city of Glendale, conveying certain property for street purposes on Brand boulevard between Fourth and Fifth streets. It was referred to the city engineer to be examined and recorded by city clerk if correct, and Mr. Brand was thanked for his action in the matter. A communication was received requesting that the names of city officials be placed on the city hall windows.

A communication addressed to the board of trustees, signed by the law firm of Gibson, Trask, Dunn & Crutcher, was received. (The same appears elsewhere.) It was placed on file and referred to committee of the whole.

Ordinance in reference to bonds of city officials was finally passed.

The matter of condition of water supply was referred to the police and sanitary committee.

An ordinance declaring intention to order the laying out and opening of Childs avenue from Third to Ninth streets was taken up and passed first and second reading.

An ordinance establishing the grade of Eighth street from the west line of Glendale avenue to a point 363 feet east from the east line of Everett street, passed first and second reading. The supply committee was authorized to furnish 500 copies of Ordinance No. 42.

When the board adjourned it was to meet next Monday evening as a committee of the whole to discuss the question of the Fourth street franchise. Citizens are invited to be present.

To the Hon. Board of Trustees,
City of Glendale, Cal.

Gentlemen: We are authorized to inform you that the street railroad along Fourth street from Brand boulevard to Glendale avenue, for which a franchise was granted by your honorable body, to the Los Angeles Interurban Railway Co., will not be constructed by the grantee of that franchise, the Pacific Electric Railway Co.

A proposition has been received to assign that franchise and that proposition will be accepted provided Section eight of the Ordinance granting the franchise and relating to transfers is repealed. The franchise will not be assigned unless that section is repealed.

Respectfully,
Gibson, Trask, Dunn & Crutcher,
By S. M. Hoskins,

A BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION FOR THE REGULATION OF CREDITS

All the business men of Tropic and Glendale have formed an organization called the Merchants' Protective Association, the purpose of which is to co-operate in the collection of all overdue accounts standing on the various firms' books; and also to investigate and scrutinize new accounts that might be entered from time to time. In other words, the merchants are going, from now on, to collect all bills when due. This is a commendable step, and one that cannot help but be of great benefit both to the buyer and the merchant.

If you need anything in the way of fireplace grates or coal stoves, see us, Glendale Hardware Co.

PROGRESS ON THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING PLANT.

Municipal ownership of electric lights will be an established fact in Glendale within a few days, barring unforeseen accidents. Of the sixty thousand dollars of bonds voted during the summer, forty thousand dollars' worth have been sold for a little over forty-two thousand dollars, and the money is now in the treasury.

Negotiations are now under way for the purchase of the distributing system of the Glendale Light and Power company within the city of Glendale, for twenty-three thousand dollars. This sale will be completed immediately and the city will then take possession and begin the distribution of electricity.

The remainder of the $42,000 will be available for extensions to the present lines and for the installation of the street lighting system, as contemplated in the original plans. It is not expected that this amount will complete the system as planned, but it will enable all work at present necessary to go on.

The city has advertised for bids for poles, wire, and most of the materials and apparatus necessary to start construction. These materials will amount to about $9000, and bids are to be received on the 3d of November.

Plans are in preparation for a brick transformer house and store room. This is to face on Howard street and will conform in appearance to the present fire house which it will adjoin. It is expected that these plans will be completed and bids called for within a week.

Negotiations are practically completed for purchasing power from the Pacific Light and Power Company, which at present supplies power to the local company. This will obviate the necessity for building a generating station, the transformer house taking its place.

For street lighting purposes, 40-candle power tungsten lamps have been decided upon. These have the advantage over arc lamps that they can be set closer together, and that streets can be lighted more uniformly than where arc lamps are used. The arc lamp gives a more brilliant light, but its cost precludes close spacing, so that the net result is less satisfactory than with the tungsten lamps.

The rate for lighting purposes will be reduced to 10 cents per kilowatt hour, or 23 of what it now is, and no charge will be made for meters or connections, though a small deposit will probably be required from those not owning their houses, returnable when service is discontinued.

The work is being done under the direction of the board of trustees, together with a body of five appointed to serve with the trustees.

The management of the plant is under H. B. Lynch.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

While coming down over the Verdugo Canyon road just north of Glendale, Tuesday evening about 6:30, an automobile belonging to Mr. George B. Mock and occupied by himself, Mr. E. V. Parker and a friend of the latter, from Los Angeles, went over the side of a bridge six feet or more into the sand below. The machine lit on its side, fortunately, throwing its occupants clear of it before striking the ground, so that none of them were seriously injured, although the escape was sufficiently narrow. It is supposed that owing to the darkness and the insufficient light of the lamps, the driver, Mr. Mock, did not see distinctly the limitations of the narrow bridge and inadvertently steered the machine over its edge. The machine suffered considerable injury, but the spilling passengers, the gas was shut off in time to prevent it from being burned.

W. C. T. U. SUPPER.
The supper given in Guild hall Wednesday night by the W. C. T. U. ladies was a success financially and socially, as all these ladies do always seem to be. Receipts were $30.00. With Mrs. Catherine Pierce Wheat, one of our most honored White Ribbons of Los Angeles and her husband, both giving a fine address and favoring us with duets so beautifully rendered, also Mrs. Pulliam and Miss Emma rendering a piano duet and boys orchestra, our program was complete for the twenty-four hours in which we had to arrange it.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club met at 2:30 on Oct. 26th, at the Guild hall. The program of the day was opened by a piano solo by Miss Anna Augspurger.

Mrs. R. J. Waters, district president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, was the speaker of the day, choosing for her subject "Woman's Clubs, Why?" "The poor ye have always with you." When woman realized how poor she was, her inability to do things as they should be done, the germ idea of a woman's club was planted in her mind, a club which would broaden her mind and one which would be of benefit to others too.

One of the needs uppermost in woman's mind was the need for culture, so the study clubs were organized. The study clubs are all very good and should not be criticised, because they are still young and selfish, not having broadened out, but if the study club always stays a study club without changing and attempting to do things of benefit to the town and the people, then the critic might say the club was "not of much benefit."

Women's clubs should exercise themselves to do good in many ways. And woman's clubs are a help in many ways and to many kinds of women. The time sometimes comes to pass when, maybe, the mother feels she is not all that her children desire, when they possibly place their teachers on a higher pedestal than their mothers, or in seeking for more culture she naturally turns to the clubs. The club is also of much benefit to the domestic woman, for it takes her away from home and herself for a while and is also the means of giving some pleasure to the family as well, for often the mother will reproduce the afternoon's program for the family at dinner that night.

The criticism is often heard that some women neglect the home to attend the club duties, but possibly that woman was not born with domestic tastes so the neglect of the home is due to the individual instead of to the club.

Another benefit of the club is that in this modern day of rush and multitudinous duties, it takes the place of calling. We meet our friends for a pleasant afternoon of entertainment and go home feeling gratified that we have seen them and in the few words exchanged with them have welded a little firmer the bond of friendship.

Woman's clubs have accomplished great good already, but there is still a higher aim for us and much still left undone. Greater good can be accomplished, and can be more thoroughly accomplished by means of the federation of clubs and this one point was what Mrs. Waters especially urged on us, that we pay more heed to the federation and attend the conventions and become thoroughly acquainted with club work.

TWO ENTERTAINING EVENINGS

WILL CHARM ALL.

The children's operetta, "Cinderella in Flowerland," to be given on Friday and Saturday nights, November fifth and sixth, promises to be the most elaborate affair to be given by children in Glendale.

Filger opera house has been secured and the stage capacity will be increased adequately to present this beautiful symbolical, fantasia, which is being rehearsed under the able directorship of Mrs. Cora Belle Howes, who has had extensive experience in this line of work and who has been highly recommended by United States Senator Russell A. Alger and other prominent persons, and the children are indeed fortunate in having this beautiful work with so capable a leader. Mrs. Howes is in charge of the dramatic work of the "Queen Esther" cantata to be given by the Presbyterian church of Pasadena. "Cinderella in Flowerland" has been enthusiastically received by the discriminating audiences of the New York Chautauqua assembly and Mrs. Howes' presentation of it at Mt. Dora Chautauqua, Florida, was a brilliant success.

The proceeds of the entertainment will go to swell the Woman's Christian Temperance Union drinking fountain fund inaugurated over a year ago.

Tickets will be offered for sale by the children whose parents and teachers are cordially co-operating in the work.

K. OF P. SMOKER.

Miradero Lodge K. of P. ran with wide open doors last Wednesday evening. The members of Glendale Lodge I. O. O. F. were invited and responded in a body and a large number of other invited guests were present. The affair was pleasantly informal and all the speeches expressed a spirit of harmony embracing all sections and a general desire to "get together." Mr. Shipman gave a bewildering exhibition of feats of jugglery, and Mr. Waddell of Los Angeles treated the audience to as fine an exhibition of Indian Club exercises as can be seen on any stage. Speeches were made particularly along fraternal lines by Messrs. Davis, Booth, Taylor, Johnson (of Miramonte lodge), Pulliam and the chairman, Mr. S. P. Collins. Messrs. Vesper, Howe, Sherer and others also spoke.

Instrumental music was furnished by Mr. C. E. Anderson and Mr. R. S. Hawcroft, a vocal solo by Mr. Marple and some lively phonographic selections were turned on by Mr. Frank Guernsey.

After the music and the talk the floor was cleared and two tables arranged along the center of the long room and a bounteous repast was enjoyed by the crowd. The affair was a great success and others are promised.

The unusual is happening again in the weather department. The mercury has soared above 90 for several days during the past week. One year ago, on October 26th, we had frost.

The statement made by Senator Shaw of Boston the other day to the effect that "Los Angeles has the greatest interurban electric railway system in the world," is not news to us, but it is pleasant to know that others know it.

As showing the accumulative property of interest, even when not compounded, the fact is interesting that on the last of the municipal lighting bonds of the city of Glendale, payable in the year 1949, the interest paid on the same will amount to $2000, the rate being 5 per cent.

The death of Gen. O. O. Howard calls from the stage of earthly action one of the best all-around public characters that the United States has produced. In war or peace he always played a prominent part and played it well. The often misapplied title of "Christian soldier," did not in his case seem to be misplaced.

President Taft has been giving some good, practical advice to the students of an agricultural and mechanical college in Texas. He commends the study of "those things that we are going to do all the time," leaving the classical education to the man who is going to do something classical all the time, although he does not express it in just that way.

Mr. James Jeffries, our fellow citizen of the ponderous fist, once declared that "no gentleman will fight a nigger," and now is on his way over from Europe to knock Mr. Johnson of sable complexion into the middle of the next week. This gives rise to the important query, has Mr. Johnson ceased to be a "nigger" or is Mr. Jeffries no longer a "gentleman"?

Chicago has one ladies' club at least that is flattered with originality. One of the latest things they have done is to give prizes for the best husbands and one of the principal virtues claimed for the winner is that he is always good-natured before breakfast! This seems to us small proof of an angelic disposition. Is he good-natured after breakfast? "Aye, there's the rub."

After reading Mr. Gilhousen's article in this issue replying to our brief editorial comment on his criticism of President Taft, we fail to see any logical reason for changing in any way our opinion then expressed as follows: "that the individual has the inherent right to buy labor when the laborer wishes to sell it, or to sell it when he has it to supply, at a price agreed upon between buyer and seller. This is individual liberty."

A recitation of the evils that afflict humanity may have a good effect if it arouses us to highly resolve that we will exert ourselves to remedy them in any small or large way that we can, but is no reason why we should adopt any one of the artificial expedients recommended by enthusiasts of all descriptions in the belief that they will do the thing in a wholesale manner.

Lady Cook, who has come from London to New York to help American women to secure the right to cast a ballot, contrasts the condition of woman in this country with that which exists in the old world in a manner that ministers to our self-complacency. She says "In America a wife is her husband's companion. Here the women rule. Here the women are worshipped. If a man wants to save his property from his creditors, he puts it in his wife's name, etc."

We fail to see why Lady Cook, finding such happy conditions here should want to change them. If women rule already, if they are worshipped and if they have the high privilege of taking to themselves the property of a dishonest husband, when it ought to go to his creditors, it would seem as if they have about all the glory and honor that they can well carry!

A REFRESHING INSTANCE.

In this day and generation when the voice of the pessimist is so generally heard in certain circles and there exist so many people whose principal pleasure in life consists in emphasizing and magnifying the sufficient and undisputable evils of our times, it is refreshing to encounter an instance of fair dealing on the part of a corporation which shows that although these modern creations are proverbially soulless, they occasionally at least seem to possess the high attributes of humanity. A recent case is that of the Westinghouse Air Brake company which was hard hit by the financial troubles of two years ago and was temporarily forced to close up its business. Prosperity has returned to the company, however, and on a recent pay day a large number of the old employees who had lost time by the closing down of the works, received in their pay envelopes sums of money ranging from $100 to $1000 in payment for their lost time. The extra amounts paid out in this way, aggregated $10,000 and more is to be paid out on succeeding pay days. It is estimated that several hundred thousand dollars will be paid out in this way.

THE EXECUTION OF FERRER.

It is possible that in his lifetime, Professor Ferrer was a harmless citizen and a man of peace in reality, although devoted to theories which questioned the Divine Right of Kings. But in his death he has well-nigh upset a monarchy and caused a world-wide agitation, the end of which cannot be foretold with any certainty. Living, he could probably have accomplished little, but in his tragic taking off he has already exerted tremendous influence.

But if the cause of the anarchists is a gainer by his death, the enthusiasts of that peculiar propaganda may well learn a lesson of wisdom if they will but reflect upon it. The inner circle of terrorists who rashly attempt to gain their ends by the acts of the assassin, may well discover in this tragic incident the fact that their cause never profits by their rash deeds of crime.

The king of Spain might have been killed by any of the means which their devilish fanaticism suggests, and the other crowned heads of Europe have met the same fate in like manner, but the result would only have been to unite the civilized world in a probably successful effort to crush the assassins utterly and their cause would have been put back until a new generation of their kind had arisen. But when fate made the half-barbarous rulers of Spain the assassins instead of the victims, a wave of sympathy for the opponents of law and order sweeps over the world—a sympathy that is unreasoning and indiscriminating. The crime of the rulers of Spain is a blot upon the history of the age in which it was perpetrated, but if it should result ultimately in a true reform in that unfortunate country, the dead revolutionist may well be given a place among the benefactors of his race which the living agitator could never have secured.

GET TOGETHER.

Over at Hollywood, a city with a population of probably 4000, they have a board of trade of some where near a thousand members. For a man to live in Hollywood and not be a member of its board of Trade, is evidence that he is far from being just what he ought to be; in fact, it almost puts him beyond the pale of respectability! The largeness of its membership indicates that it is a popular organization and that it is fairly representative of the city. It accomplishes things, being very largely responsible for the public improvements of all kinds that are in evidence in our neighboring city.

Now almost everything that can be said about this phenomenally efficient organization, might be said of a similar body in Glendale if our people were animated by the same spirit of civic pride. But it must be confessed that this spirit is lacking here; or if it exists in the individual members of the community, it has yet to develop in a concrete form in which the individual lays aside his individuality as far as his little personal affairs and ambitions are concerned and merges it into one harmonious organization to forward the common interests of the community.

Perhaps Hollywood is more fortunately situated in some respects than is Glendale, possibly some of the elements which too often in a young and ambitious city tend to divide it into sides and sections are missing in our wide-awake and progressive sister city; if so, perhaps one may be envious to it and yet not commit an unforgivable sin! But the little city across the river possesses no natural advantage which is not duplicated here. We have all the natural elements that attract the attention of the visitor and the home-seeker that Hollywood possesses, but it is undeniable that we do not work together in that spirit of harmony that is absolutely essential to the making of that city which we profess to believe will sometime in the near future be ours. We have a board of trade, it is true, but its nominal membership is ridiculously small and the few members who compose its working force are cramped in their efforts by the lack of popular support. Our efforts are divided up so among churches, lodges and other organizations working in circumscribed areas that we do not get together in any form whatever.

And in this connection we are glad to note the communication in the last issue of the NEWS from one of our ministers in regard to this very subject. He says, "It seems to me that it is about time the citizens from every section of Glendale should get together and work as one man."

If our ministers are willing to give one or two evenings in a month to a secular cause, it would seem that the lay members of the churches might well follow. As for the numerous fraternal organizations, we believe their members should feel that there is no lodge membership which should have at all times claims superior to that which the community as a whole has upon them. Let us get together, men and brethren, and show that we are worthy of our heritage, remembering the good old heathen maxim, "The gods help them that help themselves."

SOCIALISM.

(Communicated)

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

In your brief answer to my article on Taft's labor speech you dismiss my arguments with the implication that I have misunderstood the president. I wish to emphasize that I clearly understood his words and their meaning. We must remember that we are facing a condition and not a theory. There are many receipts for making pudding but the proof is always in the eating. This receipt of Taft's for peace and prosperity sounds very nice, "that men, women and children must have the sacred right to work on whatever terms they can make," but as to how it works, how it affects the lives and happiness of the toiling millions, is another story. If you would know, go ask the grimy miners who dig our coal and who are compelled to trade at the company's stores and pay a premium of 30 per cent on everything they consume, and rent their shacks from the owner who take to themselves the title of "God's vice-regents" on earth; or the two millions of child slaves in the shops, mines and factories where their little bodies are ground into profits for an average wage of 50 cents. Inquire at the steel furnaces and rolling mills of Pittsburgh where they have turned out hundreds of millions, and tens of thousands of paupers. Ask the three-dollar a week girls in the department stores, or the one-hundred thousand women who endure a living death in the sweatshops of New York City, making shirts at 10 cents per dozen.

Take a man or a woman with little children at home crying for bread has a fair show in bargaining away his or her labor power with the millionaire factory or mine owner who has his goods protected by a high tariff, and with no tariff on imported labor is as monstrous a proposition as to put a baby in the ring with Jeffries and tell it that it had the sacred right to defend itself. Is this the square deal that we have heard so much about? The fact is, the few who own the machinery of production have all the advantage in dictating wages over the many who must use their machinery in order to live. They have the resources, the coins and the army to back them, while the workers have but the pitiful weapon of the strike. To quit work until the owners of the jobs calmly wait until the hungry pleadings of the children of the workers drives them to submit to their master's terms. What becomes of this sacred right to labor. Ask the ever-growing hungry army in the breadlines of all our large cities. No issue or question in human affairs was ever settled until it was settled right, and I care not how great or renowned the statesman, king or seer, he makes a foolish mistake who thinks this question can be settled on any reform or compromise short of absolute justice. The question cannot be answered, nor the problem solved under the present system. That is why our president publicly confessed his inability to solve the problem, when he was asked, what a working man was to do when he could find no work and he answered "God knows."

The Los Angeles police would have given a more practical answer so long as there was room on the chain gang. Again, as to the working of the wage system, I quote from census bulletin No. 150, page 3, in the manufacturing industries of the United States in 1900: There was paid in wages two billion three hundred and thirty millions, and after deducting for raw material and all other expenses there was left in the hands of the factory owners one billion nine hundred and eighteen millions, the net profit about equaling the entire sum of wages paid. Also from Spahr's Distribution of Wealth, page 56: 125,000 possessed an average of $264,000, while 5,500,000 workers had but an average of $150. These statistics could be multiplied indefinitely and they prove conclusively that under the wage system wealth and the resources of the nation are concentrating into fewer hands, and that crime, insanity, suicides and pauperism are increasing in a much faster proportion than the population. The wage system breeds millionaires and paupers; the sons of the slaveholders of the South are making vastly more wealth out of the white wage slaves than ever their fathers made out of the black slaves. Between right and wrong there is no middle ground, a thing is right or it is wrong. There can be no such thing as compromise, therefore between competition and co-operation, if the competitive system is right, sustain it, but if it is wrong, it should be destroyed and succeeded by universal co-operation.

R. GILHOUSEN.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held a meeting in the church parlors yesterday afternoon. Business of much importance, including election of officers for the ensuing year, was transacted.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Breeden will entertain a number of young people at their home on Glendale avenue complimentary to their daughter, Miss Florence, this evening. It will be a Hal-lowe'en party.

Mrs. Mary Ayers and daughter, Miss Evalena Ayers, returned the early part of the week from San Francisco and Oakland, where they spent about two days. While away they visited many of the northern points of interest and the trip both directions by boat was thoroughly enjoyed.

Next week the local Thursday Afternoon Club will hold their regular semi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. H. Webster on Parke avenue. The topic for the day will be "Ancient, Mediaeval and Modern Cooking." The hostess for the day will be Mrs. Andrew Stevenson. Mrs. J. H. Webster and Mrs. John Hobbs.

A farewell reception was tendered to W. W. McWhorter and mother at their farm home near the Bond station on the San Fernando road last Monday evening. About thirty-five members and friends of the local Methodist Episcopal church gathered to wish and to show their gratitude in this social informal way. Mr. McWhorter has leased his place and will soon move to Los Angeles, where they will reside permanently. They have lived in this valley almost ten years and for the past four years have been active workers in the Methodist church. They will be greatly missed.

The Thursday Afternoon Club of this place held a reception and banquet at the home of Mrs. Clyde Carmack on Central avenue on Thursday of this week. The reception was given especially for new members. A program was delivered by the members of the club and refreshments were served. The club has decided to send two delegates to the ninth annual convention of the Los Angeles district California Federation of Women's clubs, which will be held in the Shakespeare club house in Pasadena on November 16-17-18. These delegates are Mrs. F. C. Richardson, president of the local club, and Mrs. A. W. Collins, past president of the club, with Mrs. H. Davenport and Mrs. J. H. Seaman as alternates.

TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Our people went visiting last Sunday evening to the local Methodist church and listened with interest to the excellent sermon delivered by Rev. Botkin, the newly appointed pastor of that church.

Miss Pearl Harrison sang very sweetly at the evening service on Sunday, the 17th. This number with the excellent sermon on the morning of the same day by Rev. D. M. Stuart, former pastor of this church, made us all very thankful for outside help.

A congregational service will be held at the close of the service next Sunday morning to consider matters of much importance. Every member of the church and congregation is requested to be present.

At the missionary meeting held at the home of Mrs. Myers on Central avenue recently, an excellent program was rendered by Mrs. S. E. Brown and Mrs. T. W. Doyle, of our local society, and Mrs. Brown, presbyterial superintendent of junior work of Los Angeles. Our Ladies' Aid society held an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. A. C. Conrad on Glendale avenue, last Tuesday. The hours were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The prayer meeting of this church will, until further notice, be held on Wednesday evenings. This week it was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Richardson.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

There are now 188 names enrolled, two having been added the past week. They are Ester Neyberg of Fourth and San Fernando Road, and Mary Clark of Tropic. George Benson has also entered for some commercial work. The commercial department is being well appreciated, thirty students taking the course. The rhetoricals continue to be interesting. On Wednesday there were two selections by the boys' chorus, and Lucile Parker sang. Thursday morning Clyde Morrow gave an interesting talk on the Hawaiian Islands.

The seniors are now devoting an hour two days in the week to parliamentary practice, taking up one question at a time, referring it to a committee and thoroughly digesting every point.

The lunch room, under Mrs. Carroll's management, is proving a great success, and is greatly appreciated. It is conducted on the cafeteria plan and is going to be very popular.

The basketball games thus far have been monotonously and unexpectedly one-sided. On Friday of last week the Hollywood team was the victim, the score being 64 to 4 in favor of Glendale. The following day South Pasadena was slaughtered 71 to 10, and on Wednesday Burbank was beaten by a score of 57 to 1. The team is stronger than ever this year and will be out after glory when the league games begin.

REAL ESTATE.

The dry warm days of the early part of the week kept people from traveling more than was necessary and business was rather dull. The last two days, however, have shown an improvement and there is an ever increasing inquiry for houses to rent, and for lots and acreage.

Mrs. J. E. Edwards of East Second street, has sold a lot to Mr. F. W. Beattie of Los Angeles.

E. C. and J. N. Witham have sold three lots in the Witham Tract on Lomita avenue to Chas. L. Wallace. Emelle E. Volker sold to Ben M. Wood a lot in the Valley View Tract.

Ernest H. Owen reports the sale of a lot on Burchett street, owned by Orrin Elmer of Victorville, to F. E. Haywood, recently of New York City.

Tupper & Co. report the following sales: Kober & Tarr, 2-story house on Pomona avenue, Eagle Rock, to J. B. Wiley of Garvanza; price $3600.

John E. Colvin, home on First street for $2600; also lot to west for $850 to J. Lempert of Los Angeles.

Lot on Cedar near First belonging to Wm. Lee to Mrs. Chlipron of Los Angeles; $700.

Mrs. Jennings' house on Adams street to Mr. R. C. Cavanaugh of Los Angeles; price $1600; also lot No. 1 Jennings' Tract to Mrs. M. Mansfield for $800.

The owners of the Verdugo Canyon Tract had an opening day on Wednesday. They had autos to meet incoming cars and took all comers up for a free ride. It is said that the day was satisfactory to the owners of the tract and resulted in a number of deals being started. The boulevard through the tract has been completed and is in fine condition from recent rolling and sprinkling and work still continues on other roads.

A permit has been issued to Rev. J. H. Henry for a house on the corner of Oak and Central avenue that is to cost about $2500.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

October 31st, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

Paul a Prisoner—The Voyage. Acts xxvii:1-26.

Golden Text—Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass. Ps. xxxvii:5.

Verses 1-8—The writer of this narrative appears to be a companion of Paul on this journey—who was he?

Who were the others that sailed with Paul?

What results are likely to follow, when a man of God is compelled to be in the company of criminals?

Who was this man Julius, and what probably induced him to treat the prisoner Paul with such leniency?

Is there any position in life, however undesirable, in which God does not give his children special comfort, even when in prison, and can you give some examples of this?

Julius gave Paul his freedom to visit his friends when the ship touched at Sidon; would it have been honorable to Paul to have made his escape, and not to have returned to the ship, seeing he was an innocent man on parole?

Can you tell, or point out on the map, where Sidon, Cyprus, Pamphylia, Myra and the other places here mentioned are situated?

When the winds are against us, or we are becalmed on the voyage of life, and making but little headway, is it a hindrance or a help to the soul poised on God?

Verses 9-11—Why is the advice of a man of God, other things being equal, more to be trusted than that of any other man?

Did Paul give the advice for them not to proceed, but to winter at the "fair havens," from his human judgment or from God's direction?

Why may, or may not, a true Christian always depend that the judgments he forms in the great crises of life as well as in ordinary affairs, are really inspired of God and can therefore be depended upon? (See John xiv:26, et seq.)

Verses 12-20—When we are faced with a great problem, as to the way to take, or the thing to do, is there always in the mind of God the thing we ought to do, and is there a possibility for us to find out with certainty what it is? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Why is it that God sometimes leads us contrary to what the circumstances would suggest?

When we are irresistibly driven by a "searcyclone," and appear at the mercy of the wind and sea, is there reason to believe that we are just as safe, and as much in God's keeping, as when the south wind blows softly?

When in stress and strain, in wind and storm, and we appear to be driving into disaster and death, will the consciousness that God is with us, quicken or deaden our activities to save ourselves?

Verses 21-26—Is there ever any use in "crying over spilt milk?"

What reason is there to believe from this narrative, that when we fail to use, and it is too late to adopt God's best plan, He will still graciously provide a good one which we may adopt?

What did these people miss, and what did they suffer, for having failed to use God's first best plan for their safety?

Lesson for Sunday, Nov. 9th, 1909.
